BUYING A POOL FROM AQUA POOL & PATIO

More than 10 million Americans own swimming pools, split about evenly between inground and above-ground pools.

Aqua Pool & Patio has been building pools for customers through this region for almost 50 years. An expertly installed in-ground pool can provide endless hours of fun and exercise, enhance the beauty of your property, be a magnet for social gatherings and provide simple relaxation even when no one is actually in the water.

You'll often hear you won't get your investment in a pool back, or that a pool can even decrease the value of your home. That may be true of an above-ground or vinyl pool, but a custom designed Gunite pool can literally outlast those pools by decades.

THE CUSTOM DIFFERENCE

Like a well-designed kitchen, a pool brings family and friends together. Swimming is the most popular recreational activity for Americans ages 7-17, so a pool is a great addition for families with kids (and grandparents, too). A custom-designed pool is a virtual "work of art" that creates an oasis in your landscaped yard, especially when surrounded by party-friendly patios, grills, and fire pits. A well-designed and maintained Gunitite pool can enhance your home for decades in a way that no above-ground or even an in-ground vinyl pool can.

We work with top landscape architects to create the kinds of poolscapes that have been featured in Architectural Digest and other top design publications.

Pool depths can also be customized to your specifications. Want a bigger shallow end for the kids? A deeper deep end because your family members are taller than average? No problem.

Can't decide between a pool or spa? Modern combination pool/spa designs share water circulation and heating to allow you to keep your pool open and the heated spa in use even in the months where it might be too chilly out for a swim.

GUNITE VS VINYL

Whether you want to swim laps or spend your summer floating on a lazy river, the flexibility offered by Gunite gives you the pool that comes from your dreams and desires, not out of a catalog. Plus, our pools incorporate the latest technology, from endless adjustable LED lighting to ultraviolet water purification and automated, vacuum-free cleaning systems that virtually eliminate the need for skimming.

Vinyl-lined pools can only be square or rectangular in shape. A Gunite, made from steel re-inforced concrete, pool is only limited by your imagination. It can be built in any shape, incorporating steps and ramps.

It's a myth that Gunite pools take longer to build than other types of pools. Schedule your installation in the fall for next spring, for example, and you can be swimming in your new pool within two months of the first shovel going into the ground.

The best prices quoted for vinyl-lined inground pools are for limited shapes and sizes (often squares and rectangles); any variations are considered "custom" orders and pricing can become prohibitive. Sure, you can get an above-ground pool for less money. However, the prices of an in-ground vinyl and Gunite pools are not radically different: Aqua Pool & Patio builds Gunite pools starting around $30,000, about what you'd pay for a quality, vinyl-lined pool, for example. And you won't have the added expense of replacing the liner halfway through the pool's expected lifetime.
